WORLD CANCER DAY

DATE:04-02-2019

St.Peters aims to raise awareness about cancer, its prevention, early detection, treatment options, and the importance of leading a healthy lifestyle to reduce cancer. It provides a platform for educating individuals, communities, and governments about the impact of cancer on society, advocating for policies and initiatives to improve cancer prevention, treatment, and support services.

World Cancer Day emphasizes the importance of early detection through regular screenings and symptom awareness, as early diagnosis significantly improves cancer outcomes and survival rate by fostering open discussions and sharing personal stories. World Cancer Day works to reduce the stigma associated with cancer, promoting empathy, support, and understanding for cancer patients, survivors, and their family. It empowers individuals to take proactive steps towards cancer prevention and control by adopting healthy behaviors, such as maintaining a balanced diet, exercising regularly, avoiding tobacco and alcohol, and getting vaccinated against Cancer Day highlights importance of providing comprehensive care and support services to cancer patients and survivors, addressing their physical, emotional.

UGADI CELEBRATIONS

DATE: 06-04-2019

OBJECTIVES :

The primary aim of Ugadi celebrations is to mark the beginning of a new year according to the Hindu calendar. It symbolizes the onset of spring and new beginnings, signifying hope, prosperity, and happiness. Ugadi is a time for people to reflect on the past year, make resolutions for the upcoming year, and celebrate with family and friends through traditional rituals, feasting, and cultural festivities. It is also an occasion for spiritual renewal and seeking blessings for a successful and fulfilling year ahead.

During Ugadi celebrations, people clean and decorate the campus, wear new clothes, and gather with staff and the students to partake in traditional rituals. One of the central rituals involves the preparation and consumption of a special dish called "UgadiPachadi," which symbolizes the various flavors of life – sweet, sour, bitter, salty, and spicy – representing the different experiences one may encounter in the upcoming year.

Cultural events, processions, and performances are also organized to commemorate the occasion.

TRADITIONAL DAY

Traditional Day aims to celebrate and preserve the cultural heritage and diversity of a community by encouraging participants to dress in traditional attire, showcase traditional practices, and engage in cultural activities. The objective is to promote cultural awareness, foster appreciation for traditional customs and values, and strengthen the sense of identity and belonging among participants. Traditional Day also serves as an opportunity to educate and inspire others about the rich tapestry of traditions, rituals, and beliefs that contribute to the fabric of society.

Traditional Day is a celebration of cultural diversity and heritage, where individuals come together to honor and showcase their traditional customs, attire, and practices. It's a day filled with colors, music, and festivities as people proudly display their cultural identity through traditional clothing, dances, music, and cuisine. Traditional Day serves as a reminder of the rich tapestry of traditions that make up our society and the importance of preserving and celebrating our cultural heritage. It's a time to embrace diversity, foster unity, and appreciate the beauty of different cultures coming together in harmony.

At St. Peter's, Traditional Day is a vibrant and spirited celebration of our rich cultural heritage and diversity. On this special occasion, students, teachers, and staff come together to showcase the colorful tapestry of traditions that define our community. From traditional attire to cultural performances, the campus comes alive with the sights, sounds, and flavors of different cultures. Traditional Day at St. Peter's is more than just a celebration – it's a reflection of our commitment to embracing diversity, fostering inclusivity, and nurturing a sense of pride in our cultural roots. Through this celebration, we strengthen our bonds, celebrate our differences, and unite as one big family, united in our love for tradition and community.

It aims to dispel myths and misconceptions surrounding TB and encourage early detection and treatment platform to advocate for increased political commitment, funding, and resources for tuberculosis prevention, diagnosis, treatment, and care. It urges governments, policymakers, and stakeholders to prioritize TB control efforts and strengthen health systems. World TB Day promotes preventive measures to reduce the transmission of tuberculosis, such as infection control measures, vaccination (e.g., Bacillus Calmette-Guérin - BCG), and addressing risk factors such as malnutrition, poverty. It advocates for equitable access to TB diagnosis, treatment, and care services for all individuals affected by the disease, regardless of socioeconomic status, geography, or other factors. It calls for the removal of barriers to healthcare access and the integration of TB services into primary healthcare system. It encourages empathy, support, and inclusion for those affected by TB and their families, promoting a supportive environment for TB prevention. Prevention is key to ending the TB epidemic. World TB Day promotes strategies such as infection control measures, vaccination, and addressing social determinants of health to reduce TB transmission and incidence rate. Equitable access to TB diagnosis, treatment, and care services is essential. World TB Day calls for removing barriers to healthcare access, ensuring that all individuals, including marginalized and vulnerable populations, receive timely and quality TB service.

Communities play a crucial role in TB control efforts. World TB Day empowers communities to advocate for their rights, participate in TB prevention and care initiatives, and combat stigma and discrimination associated with the disease.
